Requirements*

MATH 62, 70, 72, 97

Attendance Roster

- For the first 3 days only, please sign the appropriate attendance roster near the door.
- If you are on the waitlist, please see me at the end of class today.

Class Format

- Your primary “instructor” is the Hawkes computer courseware.
- This is NOT a distance education class but is considered a “FLEX” or “Hybrid” course – meaning you must take tests in this classroom.
- All assignments and tests are completed on a computer.
- There are no lectures, but I am here to assist when you get stuck.

Advantages

- While there are deadlines for assignments and tests, students find this format a bit more flexible.
- All work except tests can be done at home or on other campus computers.
- It is a good way to review material that you have learned in the past.

Disadvantages

- Many students are more successful in a more structured, lecture environment.
- While there is an instructor available to help, you are mostly responsible for learning the material via the computer courseware. There are no scheduled lectures.

Criteria for Success

- You like math, or at least don't hate it!
- You like learning math on your own.
- You are VERY self-motivated.

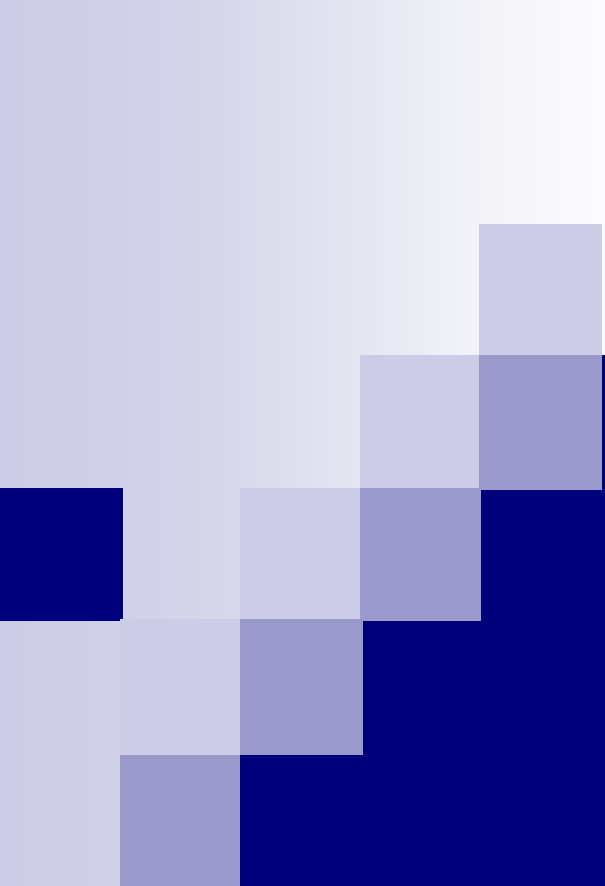

Attendance Requirement

- If you are new to Hawkes, attendance the first 3 days is required.
- After the first 3 days, the only required attendance is for TESTS. Tests must be taken in class during your scheduled class time. See the calendar or To-Do List.
- Attendance is NOT part of your grade.

Materials Needed

- Pencil or pen.
- Notebook to take notes and to work problems.
- Calculator
 - MATH 62 & 70, a scientific calculator (TI-30 XIIS)
 - MATH 72 & 97 a graphing calculator (TI-83 or 84)
- Access Code for Hawkes Learning Systems Courseware (see next slides)
